

What Makes Us Unique

Comprehensive Services

We offer a full array of services to diagnose and treat the entire spectrum of digestive disorders using the least invasive procedures possible, such as wireless Bravo pH monitoring and video capsule endoscopy. In many cases, our gastroenterologists have access to treatments and therapies not readily available in other physician practices, such as radiofrequency ablation for Barrett's Esophagus. We provide advanced medical care with a patient-centered focus and flexible scheduling options.

Preventative Care

Seacoast Gastroenterology offers several different screening procedures that can help identify health issues before they develop into more serious problems. Preventative care is part of our commitment to our patients. By providing a full spectrum of diagnostic, therapeutic, and preventative services, we give our patients a more comprehensive, more personalized level of care. We believe a preemptive approach through state-of-the-art screening is vital for our patients' health.

Experienced Physicians and Expert Staff

Seacoast Gastroenterology is comprised of an extraordinary group of physicians, nurses, and staff members who are experts in a broad range of gastrointestinal disciplines and leaders in the rapidly advancing field of gastroenterology. As staunch advocates for our patients' health, we believe open communication is the best way to help our patients make informed decisions about their care options.

Patient-Centered Approach

Our unparalleled clinical reputation is further enhanced by our compassionate, friendly, and personal approach to caring for our patients. We collaborate with our patients to enrich well-being and believe communication is an integral part of healthcare. We develop meaningful long-term relationships with our patients by going above and beyond "average" to offer exemplary services not often found in traditional medical settings.

Female Physician

For our patients who feel more comfortable seeing a female physician, Seacoast Gastroenterology is proud to have Dr. Marylyn Grondin as part of its exceptional team. Dr. Grondin has been part of Seacoast Gastroenterology since it was founded in 1988. With a sensitivity to the unique health needs of women, we offer our female patients compassionate, comfortable and individualized care.

Quality Hospital Setting

Seacoast Gastroenterology is located at Exeter Hospital in Exeter, New Hampshire. A leading healthcare provider in the region, Exeter Hospital is a JCAHO-accredited facility offering an extraordinary level of care in a state-of-the-art setting.

The hospital's brand new endoscopy unit is conveniently located on the same floor as our office. The hospital's highly experienced and compassionate nursing staff are rated among the highest in the area for patient satisfaction and care.

Because of its hospital location, Seacoast Gastroenterology patients also have convenient access to a full range of medical services under one roof, as well as free valet parking. We make every effort to provide our patients the most relaxing and convenient atmosphere possible while addressing important healthcare needs.
